

Walking Protocols

The Yaberoo Budjara Heritage Trail passes through areas of great natural beauty and diversity. You can help conserve these areas and the track by following the Leave No Trace Codes of Bushwalking.

- TREAD LIGHTLY

Stay on the established trails. Taking short cuts or zig-zagging disturbs vegetation and can cause erosion.

- BE CLEAN

Take all your rubbish and waste home with you.

- LET THEM FEED THEMSELVES

Please do not feed native animals. Feeding can make them dependant on humans, cause illness and spread disease.

- QUIETLY, QUIETLY...

You will have a better chance of seeing and hearing the wildlife if you keep your noise levels down.

Safe Walking

Carry drinking water (there is no water available on the trail), wear a hat, appropriate clothing and use sunscreen.

The trail is quite rough in some places and very sandy in others. Suitable bushwalking footwear should be worn.

YABEROO BUDJARA HERITAGE TRAIL Section Maps

Introduction

The Yaberoo Budjara Heritage Trail commences either at Neil Hawkins Park on the shore of Lake Joondalup, approximately 30 minutes' drive north of Perth via the Mitchell Freeway or Wanneroo Road. Or at Yanchep National Park, a further 20 minutes along Wanneroo Road. It can also be done in sections (see individual maps).

The Yaberoo Budjara Heritage Trail is a 28km walktrail from Lake Joondalup in Wanneroo through Neerabup National Park to Yanchep National Park, highlighting features of natural, Aboriginal and historical significance.

The trail is based on Yellagonga's tribes' movement track linking the linear lakes of the coastal plain, later used by Europeans as a stock route. The name 'Yaberoo Budjara' is translated as the land (Budjara) of the people of north of Perth (Yaberoo).
